IN MEMORIAM

JAMES FRANCIS SULLIVAN

One of the most illustrious and beloved figures in the recent history of the City of Lowell, James Francis Sullivan, better known as "Jim," leaves behind a remarkable legacy as an athlete, coach, educator, and friend that literally spans generations.

A 1946 graduate of Keith Academy, Jim played shortstop for Keith's 1946 State Championship baseball team, highlighting a stellar career that also included outstanding performances as a football and basketball player.

After graduation Jim attended Notre Dame University on a scholastic and academic scholarship, graduating in 1950. He then served in the United States Army during the Korean Conflict before receiving a Masters Degree in Administration and Education from Boston University in 1953.

Embarking on a career in education, Jim taught and coached football at Keith Academy from 1954-1958, leading the Keith squad to an inspirational 9-0 victory over Hall of Fame Coach Ray Riddick's Lowell High School powerhouse team in 1957.

Jim taught at the Butler School from 1958-1965 before being appointed as principal of the Moody Junior High School in 1965, a position he held until his retirement in 1991. During his tenure at the Moody, Jim was known as a true leader who dedicated his life to providing proper discipline and educational resources to help prepare those children under his direction for a lifetime of success. His positive influence on students and teachers alike cannot be overstated. Upon his retirement, the City of Lowell named a new middle school after him: the James F. Sullivan School of Communications.

In addition to his impact as an educator and coach, Jim made significant contributions to the community as a member of St. Margaret's Church and in a variety of volunteer roles in myriad civic, business and athletic organizations.

A devoted family man, Jim dedicated his life to his wife Louise, his daughters Maura and Nancy, and his most precious gifts, his grandchildren James and Alison.

For the past 20 years Jim brought expertise, first hand knowledge, common sense, fairness, and dignity to the always difficult and sometimes contentious deliberations of the Selection Sub-Committee of the Lowell High School Athletic Hall of Fame.

All of us who knew Jim Sullivan miss him deeply. May he rest in peace.

RAYMOND E. RIDDICK CLASS OF 1970

The namesake of perhaps the single most famous figure in the over 100 year history of Lowell High School Athletics, Raymond E. Riddick, Jr., firmly established himself in the annals of Red and Gray sports as one of the school's all-time outstanding football lineman.

As a sophomore in 1967 Ray was a letter winner on perhaps the most dominant of his father Hall of Fame Coach Ray Riddick's Raider squads, one that averaged 320 yards rushing en route to an undefeated State Championship season.

As a junior in 1968 Ray was a tight end/defensive tackle on a team that gained a still standing record 519 yards rushing against arch-rival Lawrence on Thanksgiving Day. Ray also played in three of the other top eight rushing games in LHS history. He displayed his versatility by serving as Lowell's long snapper.

As a senior team Co-Captain in 1969 Ray started at offensive/defensive tackle and long snapper for the Red and Gray. He was named the Team's Most Outstanding Lineman and was chosen to participate in both the Harry Agganis and Lowell Sun Charities post-season All-Star games. Ray was selected as a Boston Globe All-Scholastic at the conclusion of the season.

After graduation Ray attended Yale University where he continued to star on the gridiron. A three-year varsity letter winner, Ray served as the Eli's long snapper for three seasons, a job he did so well that teammate Brian Clarke was able to set a Yale single season record for field goals of 13.

A starter at center for Yale in every game during his junior (1972) and senior (1973) seasons, Ray also saw considerable action at defensive tackle. Ray was named the Eli's Lineman of the Week 7 times during those 18 contests. He was named to the Eastern Collegiate Athletic conference (ECAC) Team of the Week for October 27, 1973, and received the Yale game ball for his stellar play against Cornell that year.

Ray was one of the lead blockers for All-American Yale running back Dick Jauron in 1972, a season that saw the Eli's average a school record 309 yards per game rushing. Ray ended his Yale career as the starting center in a 35-0 ELI rout of arch-rival Harvard with the team gaining 412 yards rushing.

At the conclusion of his career Ray was named to both the Boston Herald and Providence Journal All-New England teams.

He proudly joins his dad, the late Raymond E. Riddick, Sr., in the Hall of Fame.

RUSSELL CHATEAUNEUF CLASS OF 1971

A capable and accomplished 3 sport letterman for Lowell High School, it was as a member of Hall of Fame Coach George Bossi's Wrestling team that Russell Chateaufort made his most significant impact for the Red and Gray.

As a member of the Lowell High Track team, Russ was an outstanding sprinter who medaled as a member of the Raiders' 4x220 yard relay team at the Massachusetts State Championships in 1971.

Russell was also a valuable special teams performer on the undefeated Lowell High Football team in 1970.

It was as a member of the Red and Gray Wrestling team, however, where Russell earned his place in the history of Lowell High School Athletics.

A three year varsity performer for Coach Bossi, Russell stepped into the limelight during his junior season (1969-70). Compiling an overall individual record of 23-3, Russell won the Northeast Sectional Championship before placing 2nd at the Massachusetts State Championship Tournament. He atoned for that runner-up finish by winning the New England Championship at 141 pounds as the Red and Gray won the New England Team Championship as well.

As a senior Co-Captain in 1970-71, Russell compiled one of the truly outstanding seasons in the long and storied history of Lowell Wrestling. With an overall record of 28-2, Russell won Championships at the Amherst High Holiday Tournament, the MIT Open Holiday Tournament of Champions (open to college as well as high school wrestlers), the Northeast Sectional Tournament, and the Massachusetts State Championships (as Lowell won a team State Co-Championship) at 141 pounds. Only Lowell's non-participation at the New England Tournament prevented Russell from contending for a 2nd consecutive New England Championship.

Among the post-season accolades bestowed on Russell was Honorable Mention All-American honors by the Scholastic Wrestling News.

After graduation Russell attended University of Massachusetts, Amherst, where he continued his wrestling exploits under Coach Homer Barr. Russell was a 2-time New England Intercollegiate Champion (1972 and 1974). At the Division I NCAA Wrestling Tournament in 1974 Russell actually led the defending champion in his weight class 5-0 before losing a competitive match.

Russell joins Coach Bossi and many of his former teammates in the Hall of Fame, including another of tonight's inductees, Max Desilets.

MAX DESILETS CLASS OF 1973

Without question one of the most dominant wrestlers in the history of Lowell High School's storied program, Max Desilets joins a long list of Hall of Fame performers under legendary Coach George Bossi.

A four year varsity performer, Max blossomed as a sophomore (1970-71), winning Championships at the Lowell Holiday Tournament, the Amherst Invitational Tournament, and the Northeast Sectional Tournament before placing 2nd individually at the Massachusetts State Championship Tournament, which was won by Lowell.

As a junior (1971-72) Max became a dominant force in Massachusetts high school wrestling. After again winning titles at the Lowell Holiday and the Amherst Invitational Tournaments, Max culminated his year by winning Championships at both the Northeast Sectional Tournament and the Massachusetts State Tournament. He finished the season with an overall record of 31-1, including 25 pins. As a senior (1972-73) Max compiled arguably the most outstanding single season in the history of Lowell High Wrestling. After winning his 3rd consecutive Lowell Holiday, Amherst Invitational and Northeast Sectional Championships, Max won the 126 pound Championship at the Massachusetts State Tournament, registering three pins, the slowest in a mere 33 seconds and a superior decision en route to the crown. He was unanimously voted the tournament's Most Outstanding Wrestler for his efforts and Lowell again won the team title. At the New England Championships Max again was a dominant force, pinning all three of his opponents to capture the New England Championship as Lowell won the team title. Max compiled an overall seasonal record of 34-0 with 28 pins.

Max was named a High School All-American by both Scholastic Wrestling News and Amateur Wrestling News after his senior year.

Throughout his high school career Max was also an active off-season wrestler, winning numerous tournaments and honors, including a 3rd place finish in the 1972 District I Olympic Trials.

After graduation Max attended Tabor Academy where he was undefeated in dual meets and won the New England Prep School Championship.

An outstanding student, Max later graduated from the University of Pennsylvania.

Max enters the Hall of Fame tonight with his teammate Russell Chateauf.

RAMON RIVERA CLASS OF 1985

Renowned as perhaps the most outstanding player in the long history of the Lowell High School Boys Basketball program, Ramon Rivera was the dominant force of the golden era of Red Raider basketball under Coach Charlie Ryan during the 1980's.

A rare 4-year varsity starter, Ramon made an immediate impact in the highly competitive Merrimack Valley Conference, earning All-Conference honors as a freshman, an honor he would win in each of his 4 seasons as a member of the Raiders.

Over the course of his career, Ramon was selected to the Lowell Sun All-Star team during his sophomore, junior, and senior seasons and was named the Sun's Player-of-the-Year as both a junior (1983-84) and a senior (1984-85).

A 6'5" swingman, equally at home under the basket and playing on the wing, Ramon was twice named Most Valuable Player of the prestigious U-Mass Lowell Christmas Tournament (in both 1984 and 1985).

Ramon was named to the Boston Globe and Boston Herald All-Scholastic team as both a junior (1983-84) and a senior (1984-85).

During the 1983-84 and 1984-85 seasons Ramon averaged over 20 points per game as the Red and Gray compiled an overall team record of 43-3 and won the Eastern Massachusetts Division I North Championship in 1984. En route to that title, Lowell defeated 2-time defending State Champions Don Bosco (a team with 4 eventual Division I college players in its lineup). Lowell's 84-80 double overtime quarterfinal victory in front of over 2000 fans in the Riddick Field House stands as perhaps the greatest high school basketball game ever played in the city.

Ramon's name dominates the LHS Basketball Record Book in a variety of categories. He is Lowell's all-time career leader in point scored (1459), field goals (594), free throws attempted (360), free throws made (271), games played (86), offensive rebounds (300), defensive rebounds (396), total rebounds (696), and steals (194). He is also 2nd in career blocks (142). Over 4 seasons Ramon averaged 58% in field goal shooting and 75% in foul shooting.

After his senior season Ramon received a full scholarship to national power University of Houston where he played for one year under legendary Coach Guy Lewis.

MELISSA BURNS BOTTO CLASS OF 1994

One of a number of outstanding performers for Coach Barbara Smith's powerhouse Lowell High School Girls teams of the late 1980's and early 1990's, Melissa Burns Botto etched her name in the record books as one of the premier freestyle swimmers in school history.

Melissa made a significant impact as a freshman for the Red and Gray in 1990. She scored in 4 events at both the MVC Championships and the North Sectional Championships, placing 1st as part of both the 200 medley and 200 freestyle relays at the sectionals. Melissa also scored in 3 events at the Massachusetts State Championships.

During her sophomore year (1991) Melissa placed in 4 events at all 3 post-season championship meets -- MVC Championships (where Lowell won the team championship), North Sectional and Massachusetts State Championships. The LHS Sportsmanship award winner, Melissa won Lowell Sun All-Star and MVC All-Conference honors.

As a junior (1992) Melissa again scored in the maximum 4 events at the 3 post-season championships---MVC, North Sectional, and States. She was named as the Radiers' MVP and Coaches Award winner. Additionally, she again earned Lowell Sun All-Star and MVC All-Conference honors.

As a senior team captain Melissa culminated her career in grand fashion, again placing in 4 events at the 3 post-season championship meets, earning 1 gold, 2 silver, and 7 bronze medals combined in those meets. Melissa was again named team MVP and again won Lowell Sun All-Star and MVC All-Conference honors. Finally, she was named to the Boston Globe All-Scholastic team. Melissa left LHS as a school record holder in the 100 freestyle, the 200 freestyle relay (then a north sectional record), and the 400 freestyle relay.

After graduation Melissa competed for the University of Pittsburg from 1994-1998. As a member of the Panther swim team team Melissa regularly scored in dual meets, including numerous 1st place finishes and also scored valuable points in the Big East Championship Meet. During her junior and senior seasons, Melissa earned Big East All-Conference honors, including 3 such honors during her senior campaign, when she served as Pitt's team captain. Melissa's name can be found in the all-time top 20 list at Pitt in 4 different freestyle events, ranging from 50 free to 500 free. Melissa was also a Dean's List student and a member of the Athletic Director's Honor List of Academic Achievement at the University of Pittsburg.

Melissa joins her sister Jennifer Burns Martin (also a standout swimmer and team captain at both LHS and the University of Pittsburg) in the Hall of Fame.

In Memoriam

John Julian Beaulieu

Student. Athlete. Warrior. Businessman. Teacher. Coach. Poet. Song writer. Benefactor. Husband. Father. These are just a few of the areas in which John Beaulieu served his family, his community and his country during a lifetime full of service to others. John was a true Renaissance Man in an era when such was a rare commodity.

John was a product of the golden era of Lowell High School Athletics, starring as a member of the LHS football squad in 1936-37 and Lowell's Massachusetts State Championship basketball team during the 1936-37 season. After graduating in the class of 1937, John eventually attended Syracuse University, where he was a member of both the football and boxing teams.

Answering his country's call, John served in the United States Army during World War II, serving four years in the European Theater as a combat infantryman. He was called back to active duty during the Korean Conflict. John earned five battle stars for valor during his wartime service. He remained in the U.S. Army Reserve after his active service.

After a period of time in the business world, John became a teacher of military science and physical education at Lowell High School, a position he held for decades.

Despite his rugged exterior and his athletic and military backgrounds, John always demonstrated an artistic flair, composing literally hundreds of songs/poems, including several musical comedies.

Throughout his life John was a devoted family man raising two children - John, Jr. and Bonnie - with his beloved wife Grace, whom he met at Syracuse.

During his entire life John was one of the most ardent supporters of athletics at Lowell High School, serving the student/athletes of LHS as a dedicated teacher, a tireless administrator, a loyal fan, and a most generous benefactor. His donations of well over one hundred awards to Lowell High athletes in the post-World War II era, including the current Lowell High School Valedictory Athletic Awards presented annually to the Red and Gray's Outstanding Male and Female Senior Athletes, are a shining example of John's dedication and love for his alma mater. It would be difficult to find another person who over his lifetime gave so much to Lowell High School and its student/athletes.

One of the charter members of the Lowell High School Hall of Fame, John served as the organization's treasurer and as a member of its Selection Committee for many years. In addition, he graciously funded and donated the impressive medals presented to Hall of Fame inductees annually at the Induction Dinner. John was eventually inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1997.

Sadly, John passed away this summer, ending a life full of service and love for family, community, and country. All of us who knew John mourn deeply. May he rest in peace.

NORMAN VICTOR LORANGER CLASS OF 1957

Another of the standouts of the gridiron under legendary Hall of Fame Coach Raymond Riddick, Norman Loranger won honors at the local, state, and national levels as a member of the Lowell High School football juggernaut of the 1950's.

A three-year player, Norm was a stellar two-way end on teams that compiled an overall record of 26-1 from 1954-1956. Instead in that run was a 3rd consecutive Eastern Mass Class A Championship in 1954. The 1955 and 1956 teams (of which Norm was an integral part) outscored the opposition 282-40 and 228-31 respectively in those seasons.

The 1957 Lowell High School class president, Norm received All-Scholastic honors at the conclusion of the 1956 season and was one of the rare LHS athletes to be named as a High School All-American (2nd team) as well.

Norm received a full four-year football scholarship to NCAA Division I powerhouse Michigan State University under Legendary Coach Hugh "Duffy" Daugherty.

In addition to Coach Riddick Norm joins many teammates in the Hall of Fame, including 1957 classmates Walter "Herky" McGrade and John Maloney, as well as John Freitas, Donald Giuffrida, and Paul Picard.

MICHAEL STUER CLASS OF 1978

A true student-athlete in every sense, Michael Stuer starred in both the classroom and in the athletic arena at Lowell High School and later at prestigious Ivy League institution Brown University.

As a member of Coach Walter Nelson's Lowell High football team Mike was a two-year starter at line-backer, leading the Raiders in tackles in both his junior (1976) and senior (1977) seasons. As a senior defensive captain, Mike was chosen as the Merrimack Valley Conference Defensive Player of the Year. He also was selected as a Boston Globe All-Scholastic and a Lowell Sun All-Star. Mike culminated his LHS grid career by leading all players with 20 tackles in the final Lowell Sun All-Star game after his senior year.

Mike continued his outstanding accomplishments as a member of Hall of Fame Coach George Bossi's LHS wrestling team. As a junior (1976-77) Mike placed 3rd in the Division I North Sectional Tournament.

Mike's senior season (1977-78) was one of the best in the annals of LHS wrestling. A team co-captain, Mike compiled an overall individual record of 32-2-2. Wrestling in the 170 pound weight class, Mike won championships at both the Wayland Holiday and Sanford, Maine Invitational Tournaments and placed 3rd at the prestigious Lowell Holiday Tournament. Mike peaked in the post-season, capturing the Division I Team State Championship and 2nd place at the New England Championships. Mike helped lead a young Red and Gray squad to the Massachusetts Division I Team State Championship and 2nd place at the New Englands. Mike earned Boston Globe and Boston Herald American All-Scholastic and Lowell Sun All-Star honors at the conclusion of the season.

Mike graduated 10th in a class of 530 from Lowell High School before matriculating at Brown University, eventual graduating with a degree in Civil Engineering in 1982.

At Brown, Mike was a three-year letter winner in football, playing middle linebacker. During his senior season (1981) Mike was defensive captain and led the team in tackles. He was named Brown's defensive MVP at the conclusion of the season.

DANIEL BARROS CLASS OF 1987

Despite not being huge in physical stature Dan Barros was a giant on the basketball court and the baseball field, parlaying his blinding speed and quickness into a career that mark him as one of the outstanding performers at Lowell High School during the 1980's.

Dan started at point guard during both his junior (1985-86) and senior (1986-87) during the heyday of legendary Coach Charlie Ryan's run as Lowell High School hoop mentor, earning Lowell Sun All-Star and team MVP honors during both seasons. Renowned as one of the fastest players in the Merrimack Valley Conference, Dan directed the Red and Gray's up tempo style flawlessly, consistently leading the Raiders in both assists and steals.

During his junior season Dan was named the MVP as Lowell captured the Championship of the prestigious Greater Lowell Holiday Tournament. Dan was also named MVP of the MVC All-Star Game. Dan was at his best in the post-season, helping to lead the Red and Gray to their 3rd consecutive Division I North Title game. Suffering from the flu, Dan crawled out of a sick bed to score 16 points and direct Lowell's offense in a come from behind semi-final victory over Reading. As a senior Dan was team Tri-Captain and MVP of another successful Raider squad.

Dan was a three-year starter at shortstop for Coach George Cunha's LHS baseball squads. As a junior the slick-fielding Barros was instrumental in helping the Red and Gray reach the Eastern Mass Division I North Championship game. In a 2-1 quarterfinal victory over Somerville Dan hit a home run on the game's first pitch and later was the pivot man on a game-ending 4-6-3 double play with the bases loaded. As a senior Tri-Captain in 1987 Dan continued to anchor the Raider infield at shortstop and led the team with 14 stolen bases as Lowell once again advanced deep into the State Tournament.

Dan attended NCAA 2 Division power University of Lowell on a baseball scholarship after graduation from LHS. A two-time team Captain and four-year starter at shortstop for the River Hawks, Dan was selected to the NCAA Division 2 Regional All-Tournament team during his freshman season (1988) and was a first team New England Collegiate Conference selection in 1989, 1990 and 1991. As a senior in 1991 Dan won the Student-Athlete Award for baseball and played at Fenway Park in the annual All-New England All-Star Game.

Dan completed his career high on the all-time University of Lowell list in many offensive categories, including 1st in games played and 2nd in career hits.

KRISTINE BOTTO DRUST CLASS OF 1997

One of the most versatile female athletes in the history of Lowell High School, Kristine Botto received numerous honors in 3 sports for the Red and Gray before reaching the pinnacle of the collegiate sports world by earning All-American honors in softball at University of Massachusetts @ Lowell.

As a member of Coach Suzanne Nelson's soccer team Kristine was a standout goalie who sometimes stepped onto the field as a forward when needed to supply offense. A three-year varsity performer, Kristine was team captain and MVP during her senior season (1996).

A versatile member of Coach Jim McGuirk's indoor track team, Kristine qualified for the State Championship in the 55-meter dash and the high jump. The team co-captain, Kristine was also team MVP.

It was as a member of Coach Rick O'Brien's softball team that Kristine achieved her most significant accomplishments at LHS. A four-year varsity performer, Kristine earned both Lowell Sun and Merrimack Valley Conference All-Star honors as a catcher during both her junior (1996) and senior (1997) seasons. After hitting .303 and stealing 18 bases as a junior, Kristine hit .378 with 4 home runs and 25 stolen bases as a senior. She belted 2 home runs and had 6 RBI in a contest against Andover. Kristine was team co-captain and MVP as a senior.

Kristine culminated her LHS career by being named recipient of the prestigious John Beaulieu Award presented to the outstanding female senior athlete at Lowell High School.

Although not highly recruited during her senior year, Kristine nonetheless went on to become one of the most outstanding softball players in the history of University of Massachusetts @ Lowell (UML) after starting her college career as a walk on. While at UML, Kristine was named to both the All-New England Collegiate Conference and NFCA All-Northeast Region teams in 1999, 2000, and 2001. She earned All-American honors in both 1999 (3rd team) and 2000 (2nd team).

A two-time team captain (2000 and 2001), Kristine helped lead the River Hawks to the ECAC Division 2 Championship in 2002.

Kristine is listed among the leaders in almost every offensive category at UML, including 1st in career singles (205), career stolen bases (77), and single season stolen bases (33).

After graduation Kristine played on three national championship softball teams--the Connecticut Classics in 2003, the Stratford Connecticut Brakettes in 2004 and the Lowell-based New England Riptide of the elite National Professional Fastpitch Softball League in 2006.

Kristine has continued her softball career as a highly valued assistant coach at her alma mater University of Massachusetts @ Lowell.

Kristine joins her sister-in-law Melissa Burns Botto in the Hall of Fame.

GARRETT KELLY GILLICK CLASS OF 1996

Participating in no fewer than five sports in an age of increasing athletic specialization, Garrett Gillick established himself as perhaps the most versatile performer of the 1990's at Lowell High School.

During his four years at Lowell High School, Garrett was a member of the basketball, wrestling, track, football, and baseball programs. Garrett's performances on the gridiron and the baseball diamond, however, earned him his true plaudits as a Raider athlete.

As a member of the Red and Gray football team, Garrett displayed his versatility, playing successfully at a variety of positions including quarterback, running back, tight end and linebacker. A two-time (1994-1995) Merrimack Valley Conference All-League and Lowell Sun All-Star selection, Garrett was the Raider captain and team MVP during the highly successful 1995 season. Garrett was selected as a member of the Boston Globe Division I All-State Team at the conclusion of that season.

As a catcher for Coach George Cunha's LHS baseball team, Garrett was a mainstay on two highly successful squads. In his junior season (1995) Garrett hit a team high .366 as the Red and Gray advanced deep into the Eastern Mass Division I State Tournament with a 19-4 record. As a senior tri-captain in 1996 Garrett hit .357 and led the team in stolen bases (12) and walks (17), as LHS compiled a 15-6 record. Garrett was honored as an MVC Large School and Lowell Sun All-Star selection in both 1995 and 1996. His career batting average of .362 ranks high on the all-time LHS list.

As a fitting culmination to his career at Lowell High School Garrett received the John Beaulieu Award as the school's most outstanding senior male athlete.

Garrett attended the University of Maine, where he played four years under Coach Jack Cosgrove. Garrett started 33 consecutive games for the Black Bears, recording 120 unassisted tackles, including 63 in his senior year (1999). He received the Senior Achievement Award after his final season.

Chester "Chet" J. Szablak, Sr. Class of 1944

Competing during the dark days of World War II when the hearts and minds of most Americans were focused thousands of miles away on far flung battlegrounds across the globe. Chet Szablak, Sr., was one of the young student athletes whose exploits on the playing fields back home provided a welcome respite from the worries and cares of those on the home front.

A four year member of Coach Spencer Sullivan's Lowell High School football team, Chet blossomed during his Junior (1942) and senior (1943) seasons.

As a junior Chet started at end for Lowell, earning plaudits from the Lowell Sun as one whose "football performance in light of his extremely youthful age amounts to the phenomenal." Chet was described as a "towering and smashing end."

During Chet's senior year he started at tackle (opposite his brother Stanley) and guard for LHS and was elected team co-captain at the youthful age of 15. His fellow co-captain was Lowell High School Athletic Hall of Fame member George Ford, the star running back who followed Chet's crushing blocks on a regular basis. It was due in no small part to Chet's efforts as a lineman that Ford was selected as the Boston Globe's 1943 schoolboy star of the year.

The highlight of Chet's senior year occurred in a monumental 13-7 upset over heavily favored arch-rival Lawrence on Thanksgiving, 1943. Despite losing George Ford and other team members to the wartime draft call up of 18- and 19- year olds, Lowell scored its first victory over Lawrence since 1938. Chet was named to Lawrence's all-opponent team following the 1943 season, underscoring Chet's impact in that contest.

The Lowell Sun further praised Chet. "Rangy and strong, his line play has been an inspiration to a team which has not faltered since four of its regulars were lost

A solid all-around athlete, Chet was a rugged, defensive-minded guard for Coach Frank Skaff's LHS basketball squad during his junior and senior years.

Brian Donnelly Class of 1971

Working under the tutelage of two legendary Hall of Fame coaches, Brian Donnelly earned a niche as one of the most outstanding athletes of the 1970's at Lowell High School.

Brian was a standout 2-way starter at tight end and middle linebacker for Coach Ray Riddick's football team during the 1969 and 1970 seasons, combining with classmate and fellow Hall of Famer Kevin Crocker to lead the Red and Gray to an undefeated State Championship season during the 1970 campaign. Brian was a team tri-captain for the Raiders.

During the winter season Brian turned his attention to the mat as a three-year performer for Coach George Bossi. During his junior year (1969-70) Brian won individual championships at both the Amherst and Lowell Holiday Tournaments. He captured the Northeast Sectional Championship and was runner-up in the State Championship at 188 pounds.

During his senior season (1970-71) Brian, a team co-captain, compiled an overall record of 24-2-2. He recorded runner-up finishes at the Amherst and Lowell Holiday Tournaments and equaled those performances with 2nd place finishes at both the Sectional and State Tournaments. Brian's efforts helped the Raiders win a share of the team State Championship with arch-rival Wayland.

Brian earned the rare distinction of being a team captain of State Championship teams in two different sports at Lowell High School.

After graduation Brian attended Tabor Academy where he again was a two sport standout. He won the football team's Outstanding Lineman Award and was New England Prep Class A Championship runner-up as a member of the wrestling squad.

After Tabor Brian attended Boston University. During the 1972-73 season, competing in the heavyweight class, Brian recorded a record of 10-0 with 8 pins before earning runner-up honors at the New England Wrestling Conference Championship.

In addition to Coaches Riddick and Bossi and fellow football teammates Kevin Crocker and Ray Riddick, Jr., Brian joins wrestling teammates Rick Freitas, Russ Chateaufneuf, Jeff Lambert, Max Desilets, and Cliff Whalen in the Hall of Fame.

Thomas "Tipper" Durkin Class of 1973

A multi-talented athlete, Thomas "Tipper" Durkin earned distinction on the football gridirons and the baseball diamonds at both Lowell High School and the University of Lowell during the 1970's.

Tipper displayed impressive versatility as a member of legendary Hall of Fame Coach Ray Riddick's vaunted Lowell High School football program. After playing quarterback during his sophomore and junior seasons, Tipper moved to the fullback position on offense while also starting at linebacker on defense as a senior in 1972. A team tri-captain, Tipper was the team's leading offensive performer, leading the Red and Gray with 631 yards rushing and 8 touchdowns. An outstanding 2-way player, Tipper tied for the team lead in interceptions with 4, as making countless tackles from his linebacker position. His finest effort came as he rushed for 161 yards and scored both touchdowns in a come from behind 14-6 Raider victory over Waltham.

As a member of the Lowell High baseball, Tipper developed into a reliable starting pitcher. As a junior (1972) the southpaw hurler compiled a miniscule ERA of 0.83 while leading the team in strikeouts with 38. Tipper combined with teammate Fred Cathcart for a 10-inning no-hitter against Lawrence. The workhorse of the 1973 team as a senior captain, Tipper led the Red and Gray with 52 1/3 innings pitched and 78 strikeouts. He also compiled a fine 1.88 ERA. In a memorable effort he struck out 15 batters against traditional powerhouse St. John's Prep. His career ERA of 1.35 ranks high among all LHS pitchers.

After graduation Tipper enrolled at the University of Lowell and established himself as one of the University's all-time outstanding all-around athletes as a quarterback on the Chiefs club football team and a pitcher on the baseball team. Tipper was the captain of both squads.

Tipper was the offensive catalyst for the Chiefs football squad, which outscored its opponents 380-56 en route to an undefeated season, culminating in a 41-6 victory over Duquesne University at Cawley Stadium to win the National Championship in the National Collegiate Football Association in 1977. Tipper, who threw 2 touchdown passes in the title game, earned 2nd team All-Conference honors for a season that saw him throw for 779 yards and 9 TD's and rush for 4 more scores.

As a member of ULowell's baseball team Tipper developed into one of the program's top pitchers, combining with another ex-Lowell standout ~ Bill Moloney ~ to form a deadly 1-2 combination on the mound. Tipper pitched the 1st no-hitter in the University's history against Plymouth State in 1976.

Brenda Benoit Coady Class of 1981

Combining natural talent, agility, grace, and athleticism, Brenda Benoit Coady developed into perhaps the most accomplished performer in the history of the Lowell High School gymnastics program. Competing in a sport which usually demanded full time year-round involvement.

Brenda was a two- and sometimes three-season athlete at Lowell High, making her success as a gymnast competing primarily against full time "club gymnasts" all the more remarkable.

A four-year varsity performer, Brenda was a regular place winner in dual meets and competed at the Massachusetts State Individual Championships as a freshman in the uneven bars and vaulting.

During her sophomore season (1979-1980) Brenda was an important part of perhaps Lowell's most successful squad ever, compiling 7 firsts, 27 seconds and 3 thirds in dual meets as the Red and Gray compiled a perfect 10-0 records. Brenda won the balance beam competition at the District Championships, helping Lowell qualify for the State Team Championships for the first time in school history (7th place finish). Brenda placed among the top 20 scorers at the Team Championships. Brenda was selected as a Lowell Sun All-Star for her efforts. She was selected the team's Most Improved Performer.

As a junior (1979-1980) Brenda led Lowell to a dual meet record of 11-3, regularly winning 3-4 events in the process. In the post season Brenda again excelled, qualifying for the State Individual Championships in all four events ~ uneven bars, balance beam, vaulting, and floor exercise, and placing 7th in the balance beam. She was again named to the Lowell Sun All-Star team and was Lowell's Most Valuable Player.

As a senior (1980-81) Brenda was the dominant gymnast in the highly competitive Merrimack Valley Conference, leading Lowell to a dual meet record of 11-2 and placing 1st in all four events in virtually every meet. The highlight of Brenda's season might have been at the Merrimack Valley Championships where she placed 1st in vaulting and 2nd in the other three events to easily win the coveted All-Around Championship. Competing again at the State Individual Championships, Brenda placed 6th in the balance beam. Coach Denise Walker praised Brenda as "...very talented and an extremely hard worker." Brenda won Lowell's Outstanding Senior Gymnast Award and was named the Lowell Sun's Gymnast of the Year.

In addition to her stellar career as a gymnast Brenda found the time to be an outstanding long jumper/sprinter for the outdoor track team (1980-81) and even ran a season of cross country (1980).

Lori Loureiro Trahan Class of 1991

A superb all-around athlete, Lori Loureiro Trahan's focus on the sport of volleyball at Lowell High School earned her statewide honors and an NCAA Division I scholarship.

Lori made significant contributions to the Lowell High basketball and outdoor track programs before her focus turned to volleyball.

A four-year varsity performer under Coach Rick O'Brien, Lori combined grace and athleticism with a 6-foot frame to develop into perhaps the most outstanding volleyball player in the annals of Lowell High School.

After Lori's sophomore season (1988) she made her debut as a member of the Mass Patriots Under-16 program, including elite players from throughout the state. Traveling nationwide with the Patriots, Lori opened the eyes of numerous college coaches, garnering inquiries from several Division I schools. Patriots coach Chris Prendiville praised Lori as an "All-Scholastic player." Lori continued in the Patriots program through 1999.

Lori continued to earn honors as a member of the Lowell High team. She culminated her stellar career with a superb senior season in 1990. The team co-captain and Most Valuable Player, Lori was selected as a member of the Merrimack Valley All-Conference and Lowell Sun All-Star teams. Lori was also selected as a Boston Herald All-Scholastic and chosen as a member of the prestigious Mizuno High School All-Star Volleyball team. One of her most memorable performances occurred in a thrilling come from behind 3-set victory over perennial state powerhouse Chelmsford, Lowell's first victory ever over the Lions. In the decisive 3rd set Lori served 7 straight points to spark a game-ending 12 point run that turned a 12-3 deficit into a 15-12 victory.

After graduation Lori, an exceptional student, attended Georgetown University on a full scholarship, graduating in 1995. During her four year career with the Hoyas (1991-1995), Lori developed into an outstanding middle blocker, regularly among the team leaders in blocks and kills. Coach Jolene Nagel often praised Lori for her consistency of play

Lori returned to Lowell High School in 1995 to coach in the Red and Gray Volleyball program. As varsity head coach Lori directed the Raiders from 1997-2002, highlighted by a Merrimack Valley Conference Divisional Championship in 2000.

Ruth Merrill Bailey Class of 1905

Competing in the nascent era of Lowell High School athletics and the early years of the sport of basketball more than one hundred years ago, Ruth Bailey established benchmarks in girls' basketball that will unlikely ever be equaled. While admittedly competing in an era when the rules of girls' basketball were drastically different from today (6 players-3 on defense, 3 on offense; center jump after each basket; running time for significant portions of the game; et al), Ruth still produced statistics which were at that time unequaled in the history of the game.

As a sophomore in 1902-03 Ruth burst on the scene in spectacular fashion. Playing in only 9 of the team's 14 games, she scored more than 200 points (almost half of the team's seasonal output) while leading Lowell to a 14-0 record. Ruth had games of 32 and 38 points before totalling and amazing 66 points in a lopsided 83-5 victory over Melrose. That total established a new world record for points scored by a female in a basketball game.

During her junior year (1903-04) Ruth continued her exploits on the hardwood. She scored 301 of Lowell's seasonal total of 489 points, leading Lowell to a 15-0 record, culminating in a 11-4 victory over Springfield High to win the Massachusetts State Championship. Along the way Ruth had scoring games of 46 and 54 points against Everett and Dedham respectively.

As a senior (1904-05) Ruth finished her career in a blaze of glory. Again the dominant figure on a dominant team, Ruth scored 225 of Lowell's total of 406 for the season, Leading Lowell to a 2nd consecutive Massachusetts State Championship and then to the New England Championship with a 32-8 romp over Portland, Maine High School. Lowell finished the season with a record of 13-0. On January 2, 2005, in a game against Belmont, Ruth scored an incredible 40 baskets and 2 free throws for a total of 82 points, shattering her own world record. During Ruth's tenure as a member of the Lowell High team, the overall team record was an amazing 42-0.

Ruth finished her career with a total of 737 points in only 34 games for a 21.7 points per game average, easily the best in school history. Ruth's name appears in numerous other categories in the Lowell High School Girls Basketball Record Books, including points in a single game (where she has 4 of the top 5 scoring games), and single game, seasonal, and career field goals— all despite playing in only 34 career contests.

After graduation Ruth went on to play basketball at Mount Holyoke College. She later taught Physical Education at Lowell Normal School (now UMass Lowell).

Thomas Paul Machado Class of 1963

One of the most rugged and hard-working players for legendary Hall of Fame Coach Ray Riddick, Tom Machado earned his place among the pantheon of outstanding football stars of the golden era of Lowell High School football during the Riddick years.

Tom was a solid defender and rebounder for the Red and Gray basketball team during the 1961-62 and 1962-63 seasons in the always tough Greater Boston League, but it was on the gridiron where he shone brightest.

A three year varsity performer, Tom was a two-way regular at halfback and linebacker during the 1961 and 1962 seasons.

As a junior in 1961 Tom played an integral part in one of Lowell's best ever seasons, as the Red and Gray stormed to an 8-0-1 regular season record, culminating in a dramatic 6-6 tie with arch-rival Lawrence before a crowd of 18,167 fans at Cawley Stadium on Thanksgiving Day. Lowell then traveled to Jacksonville, Florida, and faced Sunshine State powerhouse Robert E. Lee High School in a post season contest in the Gator Bowl (a 14-0 loss). Tom was the team's 2nd leading scorer, tallying six touchdowns and 36 points for the season. Tom scored two touchdown in a 28-0 rout of Nashua and was named the Red and Gray game MVP against both Salem and Chelsea.

As a senior in 1962 Tom was elected team Captain. His veteran leadership on a young Red and Gray squad was a key factor in the team's success. Tom led the Raiders with seven touchdowns and two conversions for 44 points. In the season opener against Peabody Tom led Lowell with 86 yards rushing and a touchdown as well as leading a determined Red and Gray defense in a 23-14 victory. Tom culminated his senior season with a stellar performance against intracity rival Keith Academy. Tom led Lowell in rushing, recovered a key fumble and scored both touchdowns as the Red and Gray scored a 13-8 victory. Tom received the Mike Rynne Memorial Award as the game's outstanding player.

Tom was selected as the Outstanding Player on the 1962 squad as well as being voted as Lowell High's Most Outstanding Athlete. Tom was chosen as team Co-Captain for the Greater-Lowell squad in its annual summer battle against the Greater-Lawrence All stars in 1963. He also was named the game's Most Valuable Player.

James T. McGuirk Class of 1964

Coach Jim McGuirk began his coaching career for the Red & Grey as an Assistant Coach for the Boy's basketball program from 1971-1979, but his transition to the Girl's Track programs in 1979 became magical. His Cross Country, Indoor Track and Outdoor Track Teams were regarded from 1979-2000 as one of the premier programs in eastern Massachusetts.

Jim's overall winning percentage of .647 in twenty one years includes 286 wins, which has had a lasting effect in the girls' sports programs at Lowell High School. He coached three individuals and ten relay teams to Eastern Mass championships. His teams have won eight MVC Championships, Northern Area Championships in Cross Country, Indoor and Outdoor Track, the culmination coming with the Eastern Mass Class A State Championships and the Class A State Relays Championship in 1987.

During his tenure, Coach McGuirk was well respected by his peers as well as his athletes. Jim was named The Lowell Sun Cross Country Coach of the year two times, Indoor Coach of the Year six times, and received the Division I Eastern Massachusetts Girls Spring 1987 Track Coach of the Year. He has coached over twenty five individuals who have competed at the collegiate level and fifteen athletes who are members of the Lowell High School Hall of Fame. Coach McGuirk most importantly, is an advocate of girls' sports which is evident by his record and the closeness he has maintained with his former athletes.

Jim's individual career as an athlete began in (1962-64) as a member of the Red & Grey Basketball team in the tough Greater Boston League, coached by Henry Lisien and LHS Hall of Famer Leo Parent. He truly blossomed under the tutelage of Coach Frank Georges at Lowell State College (1965-1969). As a member of one of the finest basketball teams in school history, his accomplishments are many. Jim ranked in the top fifty scorers nationally (1968-1969) for small colleges. His 1128 career points are 5th in school history. He scored 43 points vs. Keene State, and his 18 field goals in the same game also equaled a school record. Jim averaged 23.2 points per game during his senior year. For all of those accomplishments, Jim was inducted into the University of Massachusetts, Lowell Hall of Fame in 1980.

Coach McGuirk continues to remain active in retirement being a Massachusetts Track and Field official, Co-Director of the Amy E. Lekites Memorial Scholarship Fund, and a founding member of the Lowell High School Hall of Fame. Jim is also very active with the alumni at the University of Massachusetts at Lowell, which includes the Awards Corridor for Dr. Jim Cizek and Rusty Yarnall.

Albert J. Mangan, Jr. Class of 1967

One of the most outstanding middle distance runners in the storied history of the Lowell High School track program, Albert J. "Alby" Mangan, Jr. etched a place for himself in the annals of not only Lowell High School but also the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, setting numerous school records at both institutions.

During his sophomore and junior seasons (1964-1965), Alby was a member of Lowell's Essex County League Cross Country Championships. He set a Lowell High School record with a time of 12:07. As a senior in the fall of 1966, Alby was Captain of the LHS harriers and again placed 6th at the Massachusetts Class A Cross Country Championships.

During the indoor season of 1965-66 Alby was a dominant force in the 600-yd. run. He was league champion in the 600 in the highly competitive North Shore Indoor Track League in that event and also as a part of the Raiders' mile relay team. During his senior year (1966-67), as team Captain Alby again dominated the North Shore League, setting a league record of 1:17.8 in the 600 and winning league championships in both the 1000-yd. run and the mile relay. He was also part of Lowell's State Champion 2 mile relay team, which set a LHS record. Alby went on to place 4th in the 1000 at the Eastern States Championships in New York.

As a junior in the spring of 1966, Alby was the Essex County League champion in the 880-yd. run, setting a league record of 1:59.4. He set a Lowell High School record of 1:58.0 and finished in 2nd place at the Massachusetts Class A Championships. As a senior Captain in 1967, Alby culminated his high school career in grand style. He was again Essex County League 880 champion and followed that by winning the 880 at the Massachusetts Class A Championships. He went on to place 2nd at the New England Championships, setting a Lowell High School record of 1:56.4, a record that was not broken for almost 30 years.

After graduation Alby Matriculated at University of Massachusetts, Amherst, where he enjoyed a highly successful career. He set a freshman record of 1:15.4 in the 600 in 1968 and a later a school record in the indoor 880 (1:57.0) Alby served as team Captain of both the Indoor and Outdoor UMass Yankee Conference Track Championship teams as a senior in 1972. He placed 2nd at the 1972 Yankee Conference Indoor Championships in the 1000 (2:14.8) and won All-New England honors in the 2 mile relay in 1972.

Kristen Nicole Voutselas Class of 1996

Competing year-round in the demanding world of the U.S. Swimming Program, Kristen Voutselas developed into one of the most accomplished and versatile performers during the golden years of the Lowell High girls swimming program during the late 1980's and early 1990's winning honors at the local, conference and state level along the way.

Kristen made an immediate impact on the Lowell High girls program as a freshman (1992), scoring points in both the 500 freestyle and 100 butterfly at the Merrimack Valley Conference Meet and also at the North

Sectional and Massachusetts State Championship Meets. She was also a member of the Raiders' school-record setting 200 freestyle relay team. Kristen was named as a Lowell Sun All-Star at the conclusion of the season.

As a sophomore (1993) Kristen enjoyed continued success. She placed 3rd in both the 200 individual medley and the 100 butterfly at the MVC Championships and 4th in both events at the North Sectional Meet. She culminated her season by placing 3rd in the 100 butterfly and 4th in the 200 IM at the State Championship Meet. Kristen was again named to the LOWELL SUN All-Star team.

During Kristen's junior year (1994) she courageously fought off a shoulder injury to place 2nd in the 100 butterfly and 5th in the 200 freestyle at the State Championship Meet. During the season she broke the Lowell High School record in the 500 freestyle and was a member of the 200 freestyle relay team that broke the North Sectional Record. Kristen was named to both the Lowell Sun and MVC All Star teams for the third consecutive year. She culminated her season by being named to the Boston Globe All-Scholastic team.

Kristen finished her career at Lowell High School as a school record holder in the 500 freestyle and as a member of both the 200 freestyle and 400 freestyle relay teams.

During her high school off seasons Kristen competed for the Mass Bay Marlins team, earning 18 U.S. Swimming New England top ten rankings in a variety of events. She also qualified for and competed in the U.S. Junior National Championships in Orlando, FL., in the 200 butterfly and 1650 freestyle.

After graduation Kristen matriculated at the University of Connecticut, where she was a member of the swim team for four years (1996-2000). Kristen made significant contributions to the UConn program. She competed at the Big East Championships during each of her four years on the team. Kristen also won two coveted Scholar-Athlete Awards as a member of the Huskies.

The recipient of numerous honors at the local, state, regional, and national levels, Dr. Ignatius (James) Ciszek has left an indelible legacy of service to the Greater Lowell and University of Massachusetts Lowell communities that is unparalleled. Dr. Ciszek, known as Jim or simply "Coach" throughout the wide area upon which he has left a lasting imprint, has been a true leader of the young men and women he has encountered in his various roles as teacher, athletic director, coach, official, and functionary in myriad other organizations during the past 60 years. His contributions to the Greater Lowell and University of Massachusetts Lowell communities are immeasurable.

A truly versatile athlete, Jim Ciszek won letters in no fewer than four sports (football, basketball, baseball, and track) during his Lowell High School career.

He capped off his four years by being the school's only 3-sport letter winner (in football, basketball, and baseball) during his senior season (1941-1942). He compiled a .340 batting average as a member of the LHS baseball squad that season.

After graduation Ciszek attended Arnold College in Connecticut.

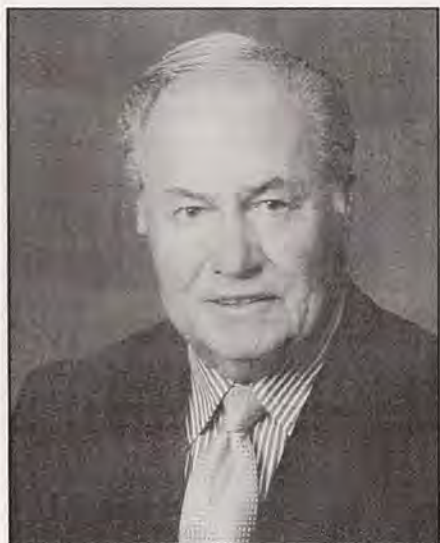

Later in life Dr. Ignatius Ciszek served on both the Board of Directors and the Selection Committee of the Lowell High School Athletic Hall of Fame for 20 years. He served as Chairman of the Selection Committee for the organization's first five years.

In his days as Teacher, Coach, Director of Athletics and Intramural Activities, and Chairman of the Physical Education Department at Lowell State College (1954-1975) and then as Director of the Athletics and Chairman of the Physical Education Department at the University of Lowell (1979-1987), Dr. Ciszek was the driving force in the survival of and then the flourishing of intercollegiate athletics at these institutions. He oversaw the successful merger of the Lowell State College and Lowell Technological Institute athletic programs in 1975. Under his leadership the University of Massachusetts Lowell athletic program blossomed with numerous individual NCAA Champions, scores of All-Americans in various sports and NCAA team championships in ice hockey. His insistence upon academic success, good sportsmanship, and hard work as essential prerequisites for success on the playing fields laid a solid foundation for the achievements currently being enjoyed by the student athletes of the University of Massachusetts Lowell even today.

A highly respected basketball, football, and baseball official who worked literally thousands of contests during his career at both the high school and college levels, Jim won plaudits at all levels for his efforts, including Honorary Life Memberships in both the International Association of Approved Basketball Officials and Greater Lowell Baseball Umpires Association.

Among the scores of honors and awards Dr. Ciszek has earned throughout his long and illustrious career are his inductions into the Halls of Fame of the University of Lowell (now University of Massachusetts Lowell), the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, and the Massachusetts Chapter of the National Football Foundation and the granting to him of Professor Emeritus status at the University in 1986.

Dr. Ciszek has also been honored with the recent dedication of the Ciszek-Yarnell Awards Corridor in the Costello Athletic Center at the University of Massachusetts Lowell, highlighting the long and storied athletic history of the University and its predecessors, Lowell State College and Lowell Technological Institute.

Walter L. Nelson, Jr. Class of 1962

From his debut in 1959 at the tender age of 14 as a starting halfback for legendary Coach Ray Riddick through a Hall of Fame coaching career and concluding with his tenure as Lowell High School Athletic Director from 1996 until 2003, Walter played a significant role in the athletic history of Lowell High School spanning almost half a century.

As a 3-year starter (1959-61) for Hall of Fame Coach Riddick, Walter was one of the mainstays for the Red and Gray during that period. Walter completed his grid career for Lowell High School with an outstanding senior year (1961). He played an instrumental role in the Red and Gray's undefeated (8-0-1) season. Walter was the team's leading scorer with seven touchdowns and four conversions. He was named MVP of the annual battle against archrival Keith Academy and later scored all three touchdowns in 20-0 victory over Lynn Public. Walter won MVP honors in the annual Greater Lowell versus Greater Lawrence All-Star Game. He was named as a Boston Globe All-Scholastic at season's end.

As a member of Hall of Fame Coach Mike Haggerty's Indoor Track team (1959-62) Walter was a solid sprinter, running the 50 and 300 yard dashes and the relay. He was undefeated in the 50 in the North Shore League and ran in the State Championship meet at the Boston Garden. Walter was also a stellar and versatile performer for Hall of Fame Coach Stan Stoklosa's Baseball team, starting in left field as a sophomore and junior and then as catcher and team Captain in his senior year (1962). At the conclusion of his senior season, Walter was named the winner of the Jado Award, presented annually to the Baseball team's Most Valuable Player.

After earning All New England Prep School Football honors at Maine Central Institute (1962), Walter matriculated at the University of Maine, where he continued his athletic excellence as a member of the Black Bear's football and track teams. Walter played varsity football as an offensive halfback and defensive cornerback for three years (1964-66). During his junior season (1965) Walter played an integral role as UMaine won both the Yankee Conference Championship and Lambert Cup, presented annually to the top collegiate football team in the East. UMaine competed in the Tangerine Bowl against East Carolina at the conclusion of the season.

At the conclusion of his competitive days, Walter embarked on a successful coaching career, eventually joining the staff at Lowell High School under Coach Riddick (1970-75). After Coach Riddick's untimely death, Walter assumed Head Football Coach position at Lowell High. Over the next 13 years (1976-1988) Walter did his mentor proud, as his teams compiled an exceptional overall record of 73-49-6.

Walter's 1984 team went undefeated (9-0-1) and his 1986 squad claimed the MVC Championship. Walter was named the Boston Globe's Coach of the Year and he also received the Association of New England Football Officials Coach of the Year Award, both in 1986. He was honored by induction into the Massachusetts High School Football Coaches Association Hall of Fame in 1999. He coached numerous gridders who developed into standout collegiate stars and one, Blake Galvin, who played in the National Football league for several years.

After serving as an important assistant coach for the LHS Girls Track team in the early 1980's, Walter became the Head Coach of the Boys Indoor Track team in 1988. Under his tutelage, the Red and Gray quickly developed into one of the premier programs in the MVC, challenging for the league title on a yearly basis. His teams were MVC Champions in 1991 and Walter gained Lowell Sun Coach of the Year honors in both 1991 and 1996.

Walter reached the pinnacle of his career when he was appointed Lowell High School Athletic Director in 1996. From then until his retirement in 2003, he guided the entire Lowell High School Athletic program successfully through a challenging period of expansion and change, including overseeing the renovation of the Cawley Stadium complex into one of the finest high school facilities in New England.

Walter joins his brother Brent Nelson in the Lowell High School Athletic Hall of Fame.

Joseph T. Miller Class of 1973

A standout performer on Lowell high School athletic teams that compiled an incredible overall record of 78-7-7 during his tenure with the Red and Gray and a multi-year Captain in 2 different sports, Joseph Miller left a legacy that marks him as one of the most outstanding hockey and golf stars in the school's history.

Joe was a standout defenseman for the Lowell High School hockey team from 1970-1973 as the team compiled a record of 36-5-4. As a sophomore (1970-71) Joe helped Lowell to a State Tournament berth en route to a record of 14-1-1, one of the finest in school history. More success followed during the 1971-72 season as the Raiders compiled a 10-3-2 record with Joe as team Captain. During his senior year (1972-73) Joe put together what still remains one of the finest individual seasons in the 40 plus years of the LHS Hockey program. The team Captain once again, Joe scored 17 goals (tying him for the team lead) and added 13 assists for a total of 30 points, an almost unheard of total for a defenseman, as the Red and Gray compiled a stellar record of 12-1-1 before losing to North Reading in the Massachusetts State Championship game.

A three-year Captain/Co-Captain of the Lowell High School Golf team, Joe was instrumental in the Raider's successful run from 1971-73 when they compiled an incredible overall record of 42-2-3.

As a sophomore (1970-71), Joe helped the Red and Gray to a record of 11-0-2 as Lowell missed qualifying for the State Championships by a mere two strokes. During his junior year (1971-72) Lowell finished its 3rd consecutive undefeated season (16-0) and placed 9th at the State Championships at Pocasset Country Club. Joe later tied for 14th in the individual State Championships, shooting 84-75=159 on a difficult Saddle Hill Country Club course. Joe concluded his illustrious career as a senior (1972-73) leading the Raiders to a 15-2-1 record. He again qualified for the individual State Championships, where he recorded an excellent 75-78=153 for 8th place at Saddle Hill Country Club.

After graduation Joe played golf for the University of Florida for four years (1973-77).

Joe won numerous additional amateur golf honors at the local, state, and regional levels before, during and after high school. Among his accomplishments were New England CYO Champion 1970, 1971, 1972), New England Junior Champion (1971), Massachusetts Golf Association Junior State Champion (1973), and Lowell City Tournament Champion (1973, 1975).

A Life Member of the Professional Golf Association of America (PGA of America), Joe served as Head Golf Professional at International Country Club in Bolton (1984-88) and Director of Golf at Indian Ridge Country Club in Andover (1989-2000).

Joe still found time to become involved in the Lowell High School Hockey program, taking over as Head Coach only four days prior to tryouts in 1985 as the program was in danger of being disbanded. Joe served as Coach from 1985-88, guiding the program successfully through a rocky period.

Joe's involvement in high school hockey extended to a long career as an on-ice official, during which he has officiated over 1,500 games.

Gail F. Reynolds Class of 1983

One of the prime catalysts in the early development of girls sports at Lowell High School, Gail Reynolds played significant roles in the expansion of the Girls Track program and the establishment of the Girls Swim program on Kirk Street. Gail's talent, leadership, and enthusiasm were critical facets in the initial successes of the Track and Swim teams.

Having competed in age-group swimming for several years, Gail joined the newly established Lowell High School Swim program in the fall of 1981 as the Red and Gray embarked on a short exhibition season. During the 1982 season (Lowell's 1st "official" season), Gail served as a team Co-Captain, helping to actively recruit candidates for the squad. In the 1st meet in the program's history, Gail won the 50-yard and 100-yard freestyle events and came from behind as anchor leg of the 400-yard relay to clinch a stunning victory over Haverhill. Gail helped lead Lowell to a 6-3 season and also competed in the North Sectional Championship Meet. She set school records in both the 50 and 100 freestyle events and was named a Merrimack Valley Conference All-Star.

During Gail's freshman (1979-80) and sophomore (1980-81) seasons she was a solid performer in the high hurdles and high jump as the Red and Gray Track team received its initiation into the highly competitive Merrimack Valley Conference. At the conclusion of her freshman year Gail, competing for the Spindle City Track Club, earned a gold medal by winning the high jump in the New England Regional Arco Jesse Owens Game, thereby qualifying for the National Jesse Owens Games in Los Angeles. Competing at UCLA, Gail placed 6th in her event and met track legend Jesse Owens.

As a junior (1981-82) Gail blossomed into one of the premier hurdler/high jumpers in the MVC, leading the Raiders in scoring and winning Lowell Sun All-Star honors during the indoor season. Outdoors Gail was a member of the Red and Gray's 6th place 4x100 meter relay team at the Eastern Mass Class A Championship Meet.

During her senior year (1982-83) Gail served as Co-Captain of both the Lowell High indoor and outdoor squads. Indoors Gail finished the season undefeated in the MVC in both the hurdles and high jump. She was also Lowell's and the MVC's leading individual scorer. She was named Lowell Sun Trackwoman-of-the-Year for her efforts. After apparent career-ending major kidney surgery in February, Gail made an unexpected and dramatic comeback, joining the Raiders late in the season to compete in the high jump. Despite limited practice Gail culminated her career with a 6th place finish at the Eastern Mass Class A Championships. Her return from the surgery prompted Coach Jim McGuirk to call it the "most courageous performance" he had ever observed during his coaching tenure. During her track and fields career Gail set 6 LHS records in events ranging from the 50-yard hurdles to the 4x400 relay.

After graduation Gail matriculated at Harvard University, where she continued her highly successful athletic/academic career. After injury curtailed her track efforts, Gail joined Harvard's Water Polo team, receiving her varsity letter as Harvard placed 8th in the National Championships in 1986.

In addition to several teammates Gail joins her father Brian F. Reynolds in the Lowell High School Athletic Hall of Fame.

Brian P. Durkin Class of 1998

A student-athlete in the truest sense of the word, Brian P. Durkin earned well-deserved plaudits and honors in both the academic and athletic arenas during his careers at Lowell High School and later at Boston College. Brian was a member of the National Honor Society in both his junior and senior years at Lowell High School and won the John Beaulieu Valedictory Award emblematic of the Outstanding Male Athlete in the class of 1998.

The first member of a Lowell High School Boys Swim team to earn induction in the Lowell High School Athletic Hall of Fame, Brian was one of the bulwarks of the early days of the LHS Boys Swim program. A four-year MVC All-Conference selection, three-year Lowell Sun All-Star, and team Captain (1997-98), Brian set school records in the 100-yd. backstroke, the 200-yd. medley relay and as part of the Raiders' 200-yd. medley relay. A four-year varsity letter winner, he was the team's leading individual scorer during his sophomore, junior, and senior years (1996-1998).

Although his swimming credentials are significant, it was on the baseball field that Brian truly established himself as one who could stand along side the greatest athletes ever to grace the hallowed halls of Lowell High School.

A three-year varsity performer for Coach George Cunha, Brian made his mark as a sophomore (1996), batting .393 and hitting 2 home runs as the Red and Gray compiled a 15-6 record.

As a junior (1996-97) Brian continued his stellar play as the Raiders recorded a 16-6 record, advancing into the state tournament. He batted .424 and hit 2 home runs and 3 triples while compiling a slugging average of .652. Brian was named to the MVC All-Conference and Lowell Sun All Star teams. He was selected to the Top 96 in New England Invitational and JET/CRO College and Professional Recruiting Combine.

During his senior year (1997-98) Brian compiled one of the most outstanding seasons in the over 100-year history of the Red and Gray Baseball program. The team Captain batted .413 with a slugging percentage of .747. He led the team with 31 hits, 27 runs scored, 4 triples, 4 home runs, and 18 RBI. Brian was named team Co-MVC and for the second consecutive season MVC All-Conference and Lowell Sun All-Star honors. He also received recognition as one of the most outstanding high school athletes nationally with his selection to Who's Who in High School Sports.

Brian appears with regularity in the Lowell High Baseball Record Book. He is listed in the top ten in at least 10 different categories, highlighted by 4th in career batting average (.411), 4th in career hits (81), 4th in career runs scored (64), and 4th in career home runs (7).

After graduation Brian matriculated at Boston College, where he continued to display his prowess on the baseball diamond and in the classroom. During his junior (2000-2001) and senior (2001-2002) seasons, He won All-Big East, All-New England Division I, and All-Region honors as a member of the Eagles nine. His career statistics include a .332 batting average, 148 hits, 99 RBI and 28 home runs (3rd in BC history). A Dean's List student, Brian also won numerous academic awards, including Big East Academic All-Star Team, National Society of Collegiate Scholars, and the prestigious Boston College Athletic Director's Award for Academic Achievement.
